By Corey

Eve has been chosen for an all-important and life-defining mission. She just doesn't know exactly what this mission is yet...

Dragged from her life and job as an English literature teacher living in the USA, Eve is thrown into a strange, yet familiar fantasy world - often without warning.

Forced to prove her skills with magical armour and weapons in a variety of tests and battles, she awaits the time where her stuffy and unusual tutor, Tink, will reveal who and what she's doing this for...
